

Housing innovations become mainstream, providing safe secure homes for those in need

Our impact on the World

Change as a result of our work

Sustainable organisations providing safe and secure housing at scale for people in need

Active network of housing organisations and innovators sharing skills and learning together

Housing innovations transfer into new geographies and contexts through changes in policy and practice

Find & Award

Find quality early adopter solutions that tackle housing injustice and the effects of the climate crisis

Identify and award those with potential to become mainstream housing practice ending housing injustice

Strengthen and Promote

Draw on global network to provide tailored support to strengthen organisations that can scale up early adopter solutions

Promote organisations to increase their visibility

Transfer and Take up

Use our position and partnerships to promote positive solutions to the effects of the climate crisis and housing injustice in a positive and powerful way to show what is possible and challenge mainstream practice

Invest for social and economic return

Global network

Our Skills and Knowledge

Work we do to solve the problem

We find innovative housing solutions that protect people around the world from injustice caused by threats of the climate emergency, conflict and economic instability. We support and raise the profile of solutions and the organisations that operate them so they can scale up and move into new geographies. We bring people and ideas together to help drive innovative ideas into mainstream housing practice. Together we accelerate change towards a world where everyone has a safe and secure home

Our role

The planet's resources are being exploited at an unsustainable rate

The climate emergency is depleting habitable land bringing social unrest and conflict

These in turn lead to mass migration and displacement of people leading to more people in substandard homes and experiencing homelessness

Progress towards global equality is in decline or reverse resulting in greater economic and social injustice

Developments in media technology and AI have led to powerful new forms of populist media and government. These act outside traditional restraints and change the balance of power and influence

The challenges we are responding to